Summary:

Jesus Christ, I need your light. I am walking in darkness and I need you to be the light of not only the world, but of my heart. I come to you and I ask that you be my savior and my friend. I give to you my life. Thank you that you receive all who seek, that you receive all who ask and you receive all who come. God, make us better at loving each other. Make us that true community that we spoke of, that community that chooses to suffer with each other. That takes on pain that isn't necessarily ours, but we take it on because we long to build true community with each other, that we could walk together facing the darkness, finding hope. And I pray this in Jesus' name. Amen.
